Casualty:	Gunner WILLIAM TANNER, 73579
Served With:	130th Siege Bty. Royal Garrison Artillery
Died:	1st October 1916
Commemorated:	SALONIKA (LEMBET ROAD) MILITARY CEMETERY Greece Grave 501.
Additional Information:	Age 30 Son of James and Mary Tanner, of Nettlebed, Henley-on-Thames.

Thessalonika (Salonika) is a town at the head of the Gulf of Thessalonika. The Cemetery is on the northern outskirts of Thessalonika, adjoining the Roman Catholic French and Italian War Cemeteries. It lies on the west side of the road (Lagadas road) to Seres.

- Enlisted at Aldershot, Hampshire, before the war & was already serving as a regular soldier in India before war broke out. Rank = Gunner.
- Served with 8th Mountain Battery, Royal Gurmeh Artillery on the North West Frontier.
- Stationed at Peshawar, India.
- Those serving in India at that time had an important part to play in the defence of The British Empire. They had to guard the North-West Frontier, which was the border of The British Empire, as it was expected that whilst our forces were engaged in fighting the war in Europe, there would be an attack on the North-West Frontier by one of the main powers. There was constant fighting there.
- When Charles boarded the troopship for India, (probably in 1913), he was never to return, because India was so far away & the sea journey took so long that there was not time for men to return home on leave.
- Was serving as a Corporal just before he died.
- Died 16th February 1917 of Typhus Fever, aged 24.

Charles Appleby

1892 - 16th February 1917

Died of Typhus Fever in India

In the 1911 census, Charles was living in Park Corner with four of his seven living siblings and was working as a wagoner on the farm

VERNON, Lce. Cpl. Frederick Sandall, 62553. 8th Bn. Royal Fusiliers. 4th April, 1917. Age 22. Son of Edwin J. Vernon, of Wycombe, Oxon.

Cemetery Location Information:

The Arras Memorial is in the Faubourg-d'Amiens Cemetery, which is in the Boulevard du General de Gaulle in the western part of the town of Arras. The cemetery is near the Citadel, approximately 2 kilometres due west of the railway station.

The Memorial commemorates almost 35,000 casualties of the British, New Zealand and South African Forces who died between Spring 1916 and 7th August 1918, with the exception of casualties of the Battle of Cambrai in 1917, and who have no known grave.

The design, by Sir Edward Lutyens, consists of a cloister, 25 feet high and 380 feet long, built up on Doric columns and faces west. In the broader part of the site the colonnade returns to form a recessed and open court, terminated by an apse. The names of the casualties are carved on stone panels fixed to the cloister walls.

Cemetery Location Information:

Hooge Crater Cemetery is located 4 kilometres east of Ieper town centre on the Meenseweg (N8) connecting Ieper to Menen.

From Ieper town centre the Meenseweg is located via Torhoutstraat and right onto Basculestraat. Basculestraat ends at a main crossroads, directly over which begins the Meenseweg.

The cemetery itself is located 3.6 kilometres along the Meenseweg on the right hand side of the road.

James Appleby

17th July 1897 - 3rd December 1917

Died from his wounds at a casualty clearing station awaiting transportation to Etaples Hospital.

James was born at Lower Farm Cottage in Swyncombe, his family moved to Park Corner two years later. Before he enlisted, he was working as an agricultural labourer.

Ernest Norcutt

June 1882 - 21st March 1918

Killed in action on the Somme, on the same day as Ralph Smith.

Ernest lived in Cookley Green, and in the

Cemetery Location Information:

Pozieres is a village some 6 kilometres north-east of the town of Albert. The Memorial encloses Pozieres British Cemetery which is a little south-west of the village on the north side of the main road, D929, from Albert to Pozieres.

On the road frontage is an open arcade terminated by small buildings and broken in the middle by the entrance and gates. Along the sides and the back, stone tablets are fixed in the stone rubble walls bearing the names of the dead grouped under their Regiments.

It should be added that, although the memorial stands in a cemetery of largely Australian graves, it does not bear any Australian names. The Australian soldiers who fell in France and whose graves are not known are commemorated on the National Memorial at Villers-Bretonneux.

Ralph Smith

25th December 1895 - 21st March 1918

Killed in action on the Somme, on the same day as Ernest Norcutt, who was in the same Regiment; with similar service numbers, it is likely these two enlisted together.

Ralph was born in Elm Tree Cottage in Russell's Water, and in the 1901 census he was living there with his parents, sister, brother, and cousin.

Albert Tanner

13th November 1892 - 11th April 1918

Killed in action, two years after the death of his brother, Walter.

Albert married Elizabeth Trendall, the daughter of a Swyncombe Farm labourer, and lived with her in Darkwood Cottage in Park Corner; Albert worked on Darkwood Farm. He had two sons; Albert was born in October 1915, and Harold was born in January 1918.

Cemetery Location Information:

The Ploegsteert Memorial stands in Berks Cemetery Extension, which is located 12.5 kilometres south of Ieper town centre, on the N365 leading from Ieper to Mesen (Messines), Ploegsteert and on to Armentieres.

From Ieper town centre the Rijselsestraat runs from the market square, through the Lille Gate (Rijselpoort) and directly over the crossroads with the Ieper ring road. The road name then changes to the Rijselseweg (N336). 3.5 kilometres along the N336 lies a fork junction with the N365. The N365, which forms the right hand fork, leads to the town of Mesen. The Cemetery lies 3 kilometres beyond Mesen on the right hand side of the N365, and opposite Hyde Park Corner Royal Berks Cemetery.

The Memorial commemorates over 11,000 men who have no known grave. They fought throughout the War on Belgian soil beside French troops, and died in France or Belgium when the frontier was of little interest in this area in which trench warfare lasted longest. The Memorial is a covered circular colonnade, 20 metres across and 11 metres high, enclosing an open space, and is entered by an opening between two stone lions. The names of the dead are carved on panels set in the walls of the colonnade. They belonged to thirty-six different Divisions and to a hundred Regiments; of these Regiments the Rifle Brigade with 559 names, the Northumberland Fusiliers with 535 and the Durham Light Infantry with 444 claim the largest individual shares.

Frank Maynard

23rd June 1893 - 14th April 1918

Killed in action

In the 1901 census he was 7 years old living in Brightwell, Wallingford, with his parents and three brothers — one of whom, William, died in 1917. At the time of the war, Frank's family was living on Howe Road Watlington.

George Taylor

16th June 1891 - 1st June 1918

In 1901, George was living in Swyncombe Gardens His mother, father, and sister — all of whom died long before the start of the war — are buried at St. Botolph's.

6 months before he died, George married Bridget Sheils at a registry office in Salisbury, were both were living in a hospital caring for Australian soldiers.

George was awarded the Military Medal for Gallantry.
